Today is Monday, July 21, 2003. The questionnaire must be completed by both partners Wednesday, September 24, 2003 (within 60 days). Once both of you have finished, the results will be available for printout for 20 days from that date. Remember, there are no "right" or "wrong" answers. The questionnaire is only a measure of empathy, i.e., how well you understand your partner's views and feelings, AND how well your partner understands you. Knowing this can be a major step to developing a stronger and a more understanding relationship. This is a very exciting step you both are taking, so enjoy!
